DESCRIPTION:

Bolgheri is situated in Tuscany, on the Etruscan Coast. In this magical place, where rolling hills are blanketed by forest, where vineyards and olive trees meet with the Tyrrhenian Sea, Le Macchiole has taken shape over time. Here meticulous management of the winemaking stage is essential to achieve quality. Experimentation is constant: separate vinification of each vineyard plot takes place at Le Macchiole, and the climate of each vintage gives character to every single wine

TASTING NOTES:

"The 2011 Paleo Rosso gives you every reason to fall in love. What impresses the most is the floral imprint this 100% Cabernet Franc offers on the bouquet. It's really quite remarkable: Pressed rose and dried lavender are almost perfume-like in intensity. In fact, I can't remember a past edition of Paleo with a bouquet of this unique caliber. It boasts a huge sense of textural richness, with polished tannins and thick, dark extraction. The 2011 Paleo is particularly monumental in the mouth." Monica Lerner ~ October 30th, 2014
