DESCRIPTION:

The Mascarello wines are characterized by remarkable personality, intense bouquet, great smooth tannins, and outstanding possibilities of evolution and resistance over time. The members of the Giuseppe Mascarello family have been growing wines for more than a century and a half, first as farmers running the Manescotto estate in the village of La Morra for the marchesa Giulia Colbert Faletti di Barolo, and then on their own property since the late 1800s.

TASTING NOTES:

"The 2003 Barolo Villero presents a lovely core of sweet fruit and the typical mentholated, balsamic notes that are typical of this site." Antonio Galloni ~ October 30th, 2007
